Heavy Ralus in California,

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15 .- Great rain storms raged here for two days, and the rain-fall for twenty-four hours ending Wednesday noon was the henviest on record, reaching twenty-seven luches. In Sonoma four and a half inches fell, A serious washout was reported on the California & Oregan railroad in Placer county, and Wednesday the Shasta express was derailed and the baggage and mail cars rolled down an embnukment. Two employes were badly bruised, but none killed.

Father and Son Fight.

LANCASTER, Wis., March 15.-At Dickeyville, Wis., Tuesday night, John Daniels and his son Joseph, two farmers who live together, quarreled about some property matters. The father finally rushed upon his son and stabbed him in the abdomen and ling, The young man, though fearfully wounded, wrested the knife away and was pounding his father numercifully when neighbors interfered. It is thought the young man will Moses W. Flebl Dead.

DETROIT, Mich., March 15.-Hon. Mose W. Field is dead. His death resulted from a stroke of apoplexy. He figured prominently as an advocate of the Greenback party in this state and it was at his snggestion that the convention of Greenbackers was held at which the late Peter Cooper, of New York, was nominated for the presidency on that ticket.

ANOTHER PITTSBURG DISASTER. Boller Explosion-Five Men Killed and

Several Injured. PITTSBURG,, March 15.-A few minutes after 12 m. a lifty-four inch tubular boiler, in the West Point boller works at Twentythird and Smallman streets, exploded with terrific results.

The large one story building is a complete wreck. Sixty-five men and boys were employed in the building. A number of them had gone out to dinner, but a larger number were seated about the building eating their dinner, when the explosion occurred. The remains of Daniel Clark, Joseph Me-Carten and Jake Reinhammer, boiler makers, and Gns Lauerbrugh, engineer, are now at the morgue, A number of the injured have been removed to the West Penn hospital, and others were taken to their homes. The names of the injured so far us has been learned ave:

Mark Connors and Charles Aulenbaugher, both futally.
Stephen Carter, skull fractured, badiy burned and recovery donbtful.

Frank Manesky, aged sixteen, head bruised. hands burned. John Forrest, head burned.

Harvey Barr, head ent and burned, William Franer, head ent. Frunk Schmitt, legs broken. James McCool, head eut. William Kelley, scalp torn off.

William Barker, ribs fractured. A number of employes less seriously injured were taken in charge by friends, and removed to their homes. At 2:30 o'clock Mr. Munroe stated that all his men had been accounted for, and that no more bodies would be found under the debris.

The boiler had been inspected recently. The cause of the explosion not yet known. LATER.—Charles Aulenbangier is dead.

THERE IS GOLD THERE.

Miners and Prospectors Journeying t Lower California.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 15,-There is absolutely no truth in the reports that Lower California placers are worthless, None of the old milners have returned, Those who have come back bringing with them discouraging reports are "tenger-feet" and clerks, who expected to find gold auggets the size of hen's eggs on the ground.

Two steamers sailed Wodnesday from San Diego to Ensenada, loaded to the guards with miners and prospectors, thovernor Torres telegraphed the Mexican secretary of war Wednesday for additional troops, lle Is fearful of bloodshed. Mexican troops are hurryling to the mines from the City of Mexico, but they are compelled to make a roundabout journey by way of Deming, N. N., Arlzona and San Diego. A detuchment of soldiers from the Moxican barrneks at Mazatlan are en route to Ensenada by special steamer.

The schooner Ellen, which left San Diego for Ensenada with eight tons of provisions and seventy-six miners on board, has gone on the beach a few miles north of Ensemada and will become a total wreck.

THE LINCOLN MONUMENT

Will Soon Be in Ruius Unless It Is at Once Properly Repaired.

Spungfield, Ill., March 15.-Ex-Governor Pahner and Judge Hay addressed the day, on behalf of the Lincoln Monument association, in favor of a bill appropriating $50,000 for the repairing the National Lineoln moniment. They stated that the monnment had been very defectively constructed, and is fast falling into decay. Something must speedily be done to prevent its becoming a mass of rnins. It would be absointely necessary to take down and rebulld the obelisk, and many of the granite stones in the base must be rejoined, and some replaced. The story of the rapid ruin of this tomb, which was intended to be an honor to the memory of the martyr president, was a fearful arraignment of the persons who superintended the construction. The bill was referred to a subcommittee.

Coal Production.

WASHINGTON, March 15.-Mr. C. A. Ashburner has submitted to the United States treasurer a geological survey and preliminary statement showing that the total production of coal of all kinds increased from 129,975,557 short tons in 1887 to 145,363,744 tons in 1888. The value in 1887 was $182, 556,837, which increased to $208,129,806 in 1888. The increased production is shared by every important coal producing region. Pennsylvania authracite, inclading liery consumption, bereasod from 42,088,197 short tons in 1887 to 46,568,000 in 1888, with a corresponding increase in value to $88,714,-600. Alabama, Kentucky, Colorado, Wyoming, Washington Territory and Montana show large percentage increases, while a slight decrease is noticed in Indiana, Georgia and Michigan.

Ohio Legislature.

Bills passed: Allowing the attorney general sufficient fees of his own collection to make his pay $3,000 per year; providing that street assessments shall not exceed 25 percent, of the property after the Improvement; defining the duties of officers of puilding and loan associations; providing for the for the organization of companies to become sureties of bonds.

Honse-Bills passed: Requiring the payment of proportionate tall between gates; providing for the erection of a monument over the "Andrews Raiders;" resolution adopted, amending the constitution relating to taxation; resolution defeated, limiting the amount of municipal indebtedness.

CHARLES S. PARNELL MAKES A GREAT SPEECH IN LONDON.

He Arraigus the Tories Aggressive Policy, Scores Balfour, and Says Ireland Will Yet Have Home Ruly-British and American Interests in China No Longer Clusely Allied-Notes.

LONDON, March 15.—The Standard's Buda-Pesth correspondent guarantees the absolute authenticity of the following:

Austria has given urgent orders to hold in readiness a corps of observation on the Servian frontier, at Bahia, Semlin, and two other equi-distant points. Two tugs and ten barges must be ready at each point to transport the troops. At the other two points twice this number must be in rendiness. The railway authorities at Temeswar and other junctions have received orders to be prepared for the immediate transportation of 20,000 troops at twelve hours' notice.

l'arnell's Speech.

LONDON, March 15.-Wednesday a vast eoncourse of people gathered in St. James hall to hear Mr. Parnelf's speech. He ar raigned the Tory government on its repressive policy, scored Balfour without mercy, showed in what manner the English people had been deceived in regard to Ireland and the Home Rule movement by malignant misrepresentation which the trial had served to bring to light, how the government had been seen hiding behind the Thucs' prosecutlon, and concluded with the following prophecy: "We are on the eve of a great popular up heaval, a movement which will not subside until you liave enabled your greater leader to carry through the legislature of the empire n message which will give Ireland all legitimnte coutrol over her own future, her own interests and her own welfare, without any shadow of harm or ill to your own great interests."

Mr. Parnell resumed his seat antid loud and prolonged cheering. Mr. Gladstone, writing to Mr. Beaufov, the Gladstonian candidate for the vacant parliamentary seat for Kennington, says the Irish erisis has become acute to an unusual degree and is pressing Itself beyond all former experience upon the minds and con-science of the English people. Alluding to the small majority by which the recent coneilintory bill was rejected, he says: "Everyone able to read the signs of the times can elearly see the way in which the present struggle will terminate."

England's Trade With China.

LONDON, March 15 .- From events that have recently transpired it must be obvious to the America i public, that the British and American interests in China are no longer so closely allied as they have been for nearly a century past. The millions spent in India or railways, cross-country roads and the development of tea cultivation are beginsenute committee on appropriations Wednes- ning to yield England a return, and her trade with China in the near future may be nlmost completely overland. With dwindling of her tea imports from the celestial empire comes a minor feeling of interest as to keeping up the integral status of the British men-of-war, it mny be sald, have long sustained the freedom of these harbors, and it is now really for the Interest of Great Britain that they should be closed. Assam tea has greatly superseded the Chinese article in England, and if the trade in Chinese tea could be forced altogether through India the handlers and shippers of the latter country could practically control the home market, for only the United States seems to have appreciated Japanese tea.

The silk and oplum traffic would follow in the path of the overland route and to America and France would be left the task of keeping open the scaports through which Chinese commerce has hitherto been conducted. The hatred long borne to the English by the Chinese may not be diminished, but with the withdrawal of the former the dislike to the outside barbarians will be concentrated upon those who remain. The naval prestige of the Americans is small and the feeble state of their marlne is accurately known to the Chinese. There will be an opportunity of retaliation for the abusive and prohibitory laws by which the sons of the central empire have suffered in America, and the recent riots at Chin Kinng will be but a prelude to more vigorous action against foreign foothold in China. The coincidence of these demonstrations with the nuptials of the young emperor is significant. The advisers of the monarch are reactionary In the fullest sense of the word, and once the flat is given that the foreigners must go they will have hard work to support themselves even at such old established places as Canton, Shaughai and Hong Kong.

As it will be to the interest of British merchants to interrupt American trade there may be a sudden accession of philanthropsale of abundanced burial grounds; providing | ical feeling to the effect that the poor Chinese have been bullied long enough and should be left to mmnage their own alfairs.

Germany and Great Britain.

LONDON, March 15.—While it is presumed in London that the visit of Sir Edward B. Malet, British ambassador at Berlin, to England is due to a family utiliction-at least so it has been given out-it is asserted in Berlin that he is the medium of a secret communication from Prince Bismarck to longer under the influence of ward politi-Lord Salisbury, on the subject of forming an alliance between German and Great Britain. Color is leut to the truth of this report by the fifet that Sir Edward held an extended conference with Lord Salisbury, Wednesday afternoon, instead of devoting himself to family matters, as he would naturally do if the reasons assigned here for his vislt were true.

clals have charged. THE DAKOTA OPIUM SMUGGLERS.

It is Believed the Entire Gang Will Soon be Arrested.

BISMARCK, Dak., March 15 .- The opium sinuggling trial was closed in the United States court here Wednesday evening. In the ease of Curran, the old man arrested for transporting the opium from Canada to Dakota, the jury disagreed, standing eight for equittal and four for conviction. Curran then changed his pleading of not guilty and pleaded guilty to the charge of facilitating in the transportation of the oplum, but not to intentional wrong doing. After a conference with the attorneys the case against Curran was dismissed, and sentence on the charge to which he pleaded guilty was suspended.

Leonard, the Denver man to whom the oplum was consigned, was sentenced to seven months in the penitentiary. It is belleved that the action in the case of Curran means that he will furnish evidence which will lead to the arrest of the entire gang, which has been engaged in smuggling opium

IT seems the Blaine family are to be well cared for by the present administration. A soft place has been provided for Walker under his pa in the State Department.

A REPORT was current yesterday that Dr. Bowman had been appointed Minister to Peru. No definate information, however, has been received from Washington to that effect.

THE Courier-Journal insists that the Reading failure and the Full River strike are splendid object lessons teaching the laboring men of America the folly of protection. Over eight thousand hands out of employment, and this in highly protected industries.

GENERAL CASSIUS M. CLAY has joined the office-seekers, and is an applicant for his old post, the portfolio to St. Petersburg. He savs the Russian imperial family and officials would like to have him back, as they know his views upon their state matters and like him personally.

CERTAIN papers are trying to stop the talk about Auditor Hewitt's" inadverteneies" on the ground that it will injure the Democratic party. Mr. Hewitt has convicted himself of "inexcusable" neglect in the discharge of his official duties, and the sooner the party shelves him the better off will it be.

COLONEL Swore is reported as not wanting any office at the hands of the new administration. He is at Washington simply keeping his eyes on some of his enemies and evening up old scores. That's what is reported, but what was the gallant Colonel cavorting about over the State last fall so much for making specches, if he didn't have his optics on some office?

WE notice from our exchanges that Montgomery County nominated a full ticket for county offices on March 9th. The election does not take place until August, 1890, but the agony of the asplrants is settled. Judge Wall was in attendance. His bother-in-law, Hon. Lewis Apperson was unanimously nominated for County Judge, all opposition having been withdrawn the day before the primary.

SENATOR BECK met with a hearty welcome on his return to Washington a few days since, and the news was sent out that his rest and trip through the South had completely restored his health. His friends who read these reports were led to believe he was a well man. But it seems that such is not the case. The Washington correspondent of the Louisville Commercial says: "Senator Beck is far from being himself. His frame has lost its vigor and there is no elasticity in his steps. He relies greatly on his cane and is seldem seen in the hotel corridors."

The Senator's friends will learn this with regret. It is doubtful whether he will ever be able to resume the position once accorded him in the Senate.

DEMOCRATIC officials have been showing such a willingness to step aside and give up their places to their opponents that the action of General Watts, U. S. District Attorney of West Virginia, proved a gennine surprise no doubt to Harrison and his Attorney General. The Repubcans have good reasons, it seems, for their hasty demand for General Watts' resignation. An exchange says: "It is well known that wholesale corruption was practiced at the last November election in West Virginia, and General Watts has had the courage to prosecute the election frauds, irrespective of party. As a consequence, some 200 indictments are now pending and awaiting trial, some of them at the Wheeling term, which commenced yesterday. The Republicans boldly proclaimed more than a month ago that General Watts would not be allowed to prosecute these cases, going so far as to say that he would be removed by the 10th of March. Following these threats, which have well nigh proved words of prophecy, came the call for General Watts' resignation, not by course of mail, but with the speed of the wire."

Some of these indictments referred to are against Democrats, but the great majority of them are against Republicans, and it does seem that the national administration is trying to shield its West Virginia friends. But General Watts does'nt of my classes—have succeeded beyond resign " worth a cent."

Why Inauguration Day Should be Changed

TO A DAY FURTHER ADVANCED IN THE YEAR.

The Inciement Weather of March Unsuited for Such Gatherings-The List of Victims From This Years' Exposure Will be a Long One-Two of the Number Have Since Died. WASHINGTON, March 15,-It is to be hoped that the congressmen who last year opposed the proposition to change the inauguration day from March 4 to April 30, will read with sorrowful care the terribly long list of victims to the inclement weather which prevailed on the day that President Harrison was inducted into his high office. There was about 200,000 visitors in the city, and half that number were directly exposed in one way and another , to the cold, steady, penetrating rain that fell all day and all night. Congressman Townshend has died from the effects of a cold taken at the time of the inauguration. A dozen congressmen are seriously ill, and in Philadelphia the papers are publishing long lists of the victims to the bad weather of lnauguration day.

The soldiers of crack regiments like the Seventh New York marched or stood most of the day in the rain, and then went to the ball at night wearing the same trousers that they paraded in. It is true that an attempt was made to have the wet clothing dried, but in most cases it was on y "an attempt."

It is estimated that of the three or four bundred thousand people who witnessed the parade and inaugural ceremonies as many as twenty-five hundred will fall victims to the exposure within a year, and two-thirds of the number inside of sixty

Inauguration day was a trying one for the newspaper men. They had been under great pressure for a week preceding it, having in most cases to keep a close watch both upon the closing hours of congress and upon the political developments of the period.

Dozens of correspondents were up twothirds of each night for several days precoding the 4th of March, and when the important day dawned they were weary with excessive labor. But the demands upon them were great, and 9 o'clock of March 4 found most of them at the capitel. They followed the proceedings there, then went out to the platform and were drenched while the president read his inaugural address. After that there was the parade to be seen and described, and in the evening the inaugurai bail required the presence of the faithful writer 10 a late hour.

The result of all this labor and exposure is that three-fourths of the correspondents have wretched colds and do not feel equal to the labors of the day, and one of the brighest of the number has died.

William Frank O'Brien was the assistant manager of the United Press here and was a writer of Washington letters for papers. He took cold on inauguration day, feli ill with pneumonia on the following day, and iu one one week was dead.

He was one of the brightest, wittiest and most efficient newspaper men in Washington, and was only thirty-one years of age. He was a man of splendid promise and up to the day of his illiness enned to be i vigorous health.

It may be some satisfaction to follow historic precedents and have the presidents inaugurated on the 4th day of March, when the chances are that the weather will be dangerously bad, but the satisfaction which conservative spirits find in clinging to this day is too costly when it is paid for with suck lives as O'Brien's.

THE CAR STOVE MUST GO.

A Most Successful Experiment at Heating Couches By Stenm.

PHILADELPHIA, March 15 .- The ilrst official test by the Pennsylvania Railroad company of a new system of heating passenger cars by steam was made on a special train which ran from this city to Jersey City Wednesday afternoon. The trial was most satisfactory in every detail, and the system will probably be adopted by the company for use on its passenger trains. The train in question was made up of twelve cars, and bore a distinguished party of railroad

The system successfully tried is the result of experiments which have been going on for two years at the company's shops at Altoona under the direct supervision of Theodore N. Ely. The practical advantages in this system are its simplicity of construction and thorough safety and secondarlly its economy, the only expense attached to it being the first cost of placing the apparatus in the cars. The temperature of a car can be easily regulated and any car on a train may be cut off from the heating pipes without inter-fering with the heating of the other cars.

In case of an accident to a train there would be no possible danger to those on board, because the pipes would immediately collapse, and there would be no rush of steam to scald and burn the passengers. The system has been given the severest tests on the mountain roads in the vicinity of Altoons, on all sorts of grades and in all sorts of weather, and its usefulness has been thoroughly demonstrated.

All the officials on the train expressed themselves as being completely satisfied and well pleased with the result of the test, and say the heating of passenger cars will be nudoubtedly ndopted by the Pennsylvania company. The system has been patented by the company.
